

My Favourite Science Teacher - Sheeba Teacher

Before Sheeba Teacher's class, Chemistry was just big names, formulas and tough equations for me. I used to think it was too difficult.

But Sheeba Teacher made everything different. She doesn't just teach from the textbook. She makes us see the magic inside Chemistry. When she makes us do litmus paper test and shows acidic and basic substances, we hold beakers and say "Wow!" She shows us that Chemistry is not just in the lab. It is in our kitchen, in our food and in the air we breathe.

What I love most about Sheeba Teacher is her love for us. If we make a mistake, she never scolds us. One time I did not say the answer to a question. She did not scold me. She just patiently said, "It's okay. Study next time." She explains with so much patience until the last student understands.

Once I asked her advice for a project. She explained it to me and I felt so happy that I finally understood the equation. I don't even know if she realised it was such a big thing for me. From that day, I stopped being scared of Chemistry and started loving it so much. But then came a day that made me very sad. Sheeba Teacher left our school. On her last day, when she said goodbye, I couldn't hold my sadness. The classroom felt so empty without her. Then our new science teacher came, but still, I lost my favourite science teacher.

But now I understand, a good teacher never really leaves. Sheeba Teacher may have left the school, but she left the love for Chemistry in my heart forever. Whenever I see a colour change or a small reaction, I remember her and her words. For me, Sheeba Teacher is not just a Chemistry teacher. She taught me to observe carefully, to be patient and to find beauty in small things. Thank you, Sheeba Teacher, for making Chemistry the most colourful subject for me. Wherever you are, I will never forget you. We miss you so much.
